

Blog Export: Rasmus' Toys Page, <http://toys.lerdorf.com/>

Saturday, November 8, 2003

Treo600

I am not a huge fan of PDA's and cellphones. But this new Treo is pretty cool. When it comes down in price a little bit I will probably pick one up. Being able to ssh and irc anywhere from a little device with a full keyboard is cool.

Posted by Rasmus in Phones and PDA's at 01:41

Hey Rasums,

I just today received my Treo 600. Am charging it up right now preparatory to activating the phone service. I had no idea one could install ssh and irc clients. Thanks for the tip.

Tom

Anonymous on Dec 10 2003, 20:30

I love my Treo 600 but after unsuccessfully trying to install a Sony PDA with the Palm desktop I can no longer hotsync the Treo or even access a Palm desktop. The message I get is: something about not finding the software to hotsync and something about not finding a certain Treo .dll(sorry can't find exact message). I have downloaded both Treo and Palm desktop software several times but nothing helps. Any ideas. TIA. John

Anonymous on May 3 2004, 21:48

I just got my treo and I am trying to get a program that will let me "passively" manage my emails. I want to sync with my PC and let the PC get all the emails and I will download them once a day using the hotsync. Can this be done??

Anonymous on Sep 4 2004, 21:36